Regent Perkins requested a more in-depth report and periodic updates regarding the Reskilling and Recovery Network at future Committee meetings. Vice Chancellor Mackinnon said that information can be provided going forward and added that Nevada was selected as one of 20 states to be a part of the Reskilling and Recovery Network with the National Governor’s Association for Best Practices. This is still in the early stages of development; however, teams from every state have recently started meeting bi-weekly.

Hilgersom, President, TMCC provided input which included: more action-oriented items on the meeting agendas; emphasis on workforce; dual enrollment; the development of a funding mechanism by establishing partnerships with key legislators to find appropriate funding solutions for both K-12 and community colleges; and heavy involvement of the Institutional Advisory Councils to help provide a local perspective.

Ms. Joyce M. Helens, President, GBC, provided input which included: providing a voice and advocacy for the Community College Committee meetings; identifying the mission of the community colleges within Nevada; and the overall charge should be less specific and more broadly written as issues evolve over time.

Dr. Federico Zaragoza, President, CSN, provided input which included: K-12 and community college alignment regarding dual enrollment and career pathways; articulation agreements between the NSHE institutions; workforce development; industry certifications; provisions for transitional pathways to careers; and equity.
6. Information Only-Bylaw Review, Community College Committee Charge
   — (continued)

Regent Levine asked whether an analysis on funding that shows how community colleges can potentially save the state on resources can be brought forward to the Committee. Vice Chancellor Mackinnon said he will initiate a conversation with Chief Financial Officer Andrew Clinger and other System Administration leadership on creating the funding analysis. Regent Levine thanked Vice Chancellor Mackinnon and requested that the conversation take place soon with an aim to have the analysis presented to the Committee before January 2021.

Mr. Rob Hooper, IAC Chair, WNC, suggested that the Institutional Advisory Council for each community college review the charge and provide input to the Committee through its respective president.

Vice Chancellor Mackinnon said in order to allow feedback on the charge to come forward from all of the IACs, the information should be brought forward at the first Community College Committee meeting of 2021, so that all of the IACs can have a chance to meet and gather input.

Regent Perkins commented that the tone of the charge must be mainstreamed and emphasized the importance of adding reskilling, equity and advocacy as some of the main focuses.

Vice Chair Carvalho agreed with all comments made, especially around equity. The cross institutional collaboration that has been done regarding equity shows there is a lot of strength in the System. It is important to mention in the charge that the four community colleges work together as a system.

7. Information Only-Registered Apprenticeship Programs in Nevada – The Committee received a briefing on Registered Apprenticeship Programs (RAP), including a review of RAP development, current RAP opportunities across Nevada, and a review of the new $2.5 million Department of Labor grant NSHE received to further expand RAP statewide *(Refs. million from the U.S. Department of Labor for the “Nevada Alliance for Youth Apprenticeship” grant project which expands Registered Apprenticeship opportunities for youth, ages 16-24. The statewide initiative has a goal to serve 400 new registered apprentices within four years in areas such as advanced manufacturing, healthcare, IT, construction and mining. He thanked Ms. Olson for her work.

Regent Levine said the Registered Apprenticeship Programs is a fabulous and timely initiative. She asked if there has been a dialogue with culinary unions about a partnership in apprenticeship programs. Ms. Olson said she is very open and excited to work with any of the union programs to help support and build their workforce in any way possible, especially because of the current challenging times.

Vice Chair Carvalho asked the following questions: 1) Are the apprenticeship programs employer or union funded as enrolled students will not incur debt; and 2) Where are the apprenticeship programs registered. Ms. Olson answered that in Nevada there are NRS regulations that require the apprentices to not incur any kind of expenses as part of the apprenticeship program, and the programs are exclusively employer-funded, or at times there is grant funding available to cover the cost. The programs are registered with the State Apprenticeship Agency operated under the OWINN. Once individuals complete the program, they are registered with the State Apprenticeship Council and/or the US Department of Labor.

Regent Levine asked if the NSHE is working in alignment with the unions on the apprenticeship programs. Vice Chancellor Mackinnon answered yes and said the non-trade union apprenticeship pathways do not have unions directly aligned with them such as with advanced manufacturing or IT, and are currently not looking to do an apprenticeship with a non-union company with the Nevada Alliance for Youth Apprenticeship grant. Ms. Olson added that NSHE is working in partnerships with some of the unions to build pre-apprenticeship programs.

Regent Perkins asked if there is an equity component to the statewide initiative with the goal to serve 400 new registered apprentices over four years. Ms. Olson answered that different targeted populations were identified such as out-of-school youth which was the main population. There are no specific requirements to operate under; however, efforts to ensure diversity are being put forth with the existing trades that are being worked with.
