Nevada Commission on Ethics Vision & Mission Statement

OUR VISION

Principled public servants preserving the public trust.

OUR MISSION

To enhance the public's faith and confidence in government and uphold the public trust by ensuring that public officers and public employees commit themselves to avoiding conflicts between their private interests and their public duties.

Conflict of Interest

- Conflicts of interest can interfere with basic principles of fairness – everyone having the same burdens and benefits in our society. A public official may have many opportunities to take unfair advantage of his or her position or to gain a benefit at the expense of others. When public officers and employees ignore their conflicts of interest, the public trust becomes undermined. The public can lose faith in the integrity of government and the decision-making processes.

But what is a 'conflict of interest' anyway?

What policy is being furthered
here?

Conflict of Interest

A real or seeming incompatibility between one's private interests and one's public or fiduciary duties.

~ Black's Law Dictionary, Eighth Edition

Appearance of Impropriety

Conduct which would create in a reasonable person's mind a perception that the public officer's/employee's ability to carry out his or her responsibilities with integrity, impartiality, and competence is impaired.

~from Canon 2 of the American Bar Association
Model Code of Judicial Conduct

Private Interest v. Public Duties

Pecuniary Interests and the Interests of persons with whom we have certain relationships that may be affected by matters for which we are responsible in our official capacity.

Guidance on Ethics

- Part of our Mission is to provide guidance through the Ethics Laws.

Advisory Opinions

Confidential Advisory Opinions

“It would be impossible to draft an ethics legislation that would cover every possible case, but the saving grace of this legislation is that the individual in a ‘twilight’ area can request an opinion before taking an action.”

~ Senator Richard Bryan, Sponsor of the legislation providing for first party advisory opinion requests.

~ See also, Carrigan v. Nevada Comm’n on Ethics, 129 Nev. ____ (2013).

CONFIDENTIAL

Advisory Opinions

Any public officer or public employee with questions regarding his or her own past, present or future conduct related to the Ethics in Government Law may request a confidential advisory opinion from the Commission. Consideration of these advisory opinions has been statutorily exempted from Nevada's Open Meeting Law.

Ethics Complaints

The Commission has authority to render an opinion interpreting the Ethics in Government Law and apply the standards to a given set of facts and circumstances upon the request from a person, a specialized or local ethics committee; and upon the Commission's own motion.

The Commission has adopted procedural regulations that outline how these complaints are processed. Those regulations appear in chapter 281A of Nevada Administrative Code.

Initial Review of Ethics Complaints

Each complaint is initially reviewed by the Commission's Executive Director and Commission Counsel to determine whether the Commission has jurisdiction to investigate the matter, and the Executive Director makes a recommendation to the Commission regarding jurisdiction.

The Commission will accept jurisdiction if:

- (1) The subject of the RFO is a public officer or public employee;
- (2) The RFO contains an allegation of a violation of chapter 281A of Nevada Revised Statutes; and
- (3) The RFO includes a reliable form of credible evidence to support the allegations.

If accepted, the Commission will direct the Executive Director to INVESTIGATE the matter or DISMISS with or without a Letter of Caution or Instruction. The Executive Director will notify the requester and the subject of the decision. The subject is provided an opportunity to respond in writing to the allegations under the Executive Director's Investigation.

Review Panel

The Executive Director presents a recommendation to a 3-member Review Panel of the Commission regarding whether the investigation yields evidence to support just and sufficient cause for the Commission to render an opinion in the matter.

The Review Panel reviews all of the evidence and issues a Panel Determination. Insufficient just and sufficient cause results in DISMISSAL, with or without a Letter of Caution.

If the Panel finds just and sufficient cause to support the violation, the Panel may refer the matter to the Commission OR approve a DEFERRAL AGREEMENT between the Executive Director and Subject.

DEFERRAL AGREEMENTS

- SB 84 (2017) – Section 6
 - Deferred Action – No Finding of Violation
 - Between Executive Director and Subject
 - Approved by Review Panel
 - Public
 - Terms and Conditions of Deferral
 - Corrective Action (Training; Public Apology; Future Compliance Requirements; Other)
 - Public Admonishment, Reprimand or Censure
 - Dismissal with Compliance
 - Referral to Commission for Non-Compliance

Confidentiality of Complaints

- A Complaint becomes public ONLY AFTER the Review Panel has made its determination regarding just and sufficient cause for the Commission to render an opinion.
- Before a Panel Determination, the Commission and its staff may neither confirm nor deny the receipt of a Complaint.
- After a Panel Determination, the Complaint is publicly disclosed, but the Commission's Investigatory File remains confidential (with exceptions).

Complaint - Hearings

- Notice and Scheduling

- If the Review Panel finds that just and sufficient cause exists to forward any or all of the allegations in a Complaint to the Commission for hearing, the Commission issues a Notice of Hearing and Scheduling Order to the subject of the RFO outlining the date, time and location of the hearing and deadlines for various prehearing requirements.

Hearing- Complaint

Commission hearings of Complaints are not subject to Nevada's Open Meeting Law, but are typically conducted in open public sessions to promote transparency in government. Witnesses and documents may be subpoenaed, evidence and testimony are considered, and the Commission deliberates and determines whether the subject's conduct violated a provision of NRS 281A. If the Commission finds that the subject violated NRS 281A, the Commission will determine whether the violation is willful; i.e., knowing and intentional. The Commission may impose civil penalties and other sanctions for a willful violation, including monetary fines and referrals for removal from office or other disciplinary action. Other penalties are provided by law (SB 84 – 2017).

Of course, any subject found to have violated the Ethics in Government Laws may appeal the Commission's decisions to the District Court via the judicial review process.
