INTRODUCTION

UNLV Athletics entered FY '23 with a vision and mission to change the trajectory of the department along with the entertainment division of the Thomas & Mack Center/Cox Pavilion. The primary focus was – and continues to be – the student-athlete experience and what we can do as a department to enhance their lives daily through the implementation of a student-athlete-first mentality. As we continue our mission to Graduate Leaders, Win Championships, and Excel In All That We Do, we will challenge our internal and external constituents to "Rebel Up" and join us in building UNLV Athletics to be the best that it can be.

This new vision born in January '22, which includes "empathy" and features an emphasis on the staff's mental, physical and emotional health, has been well-received and increased collaboration and respect for one another. The emphasis remains helping our student-athletes reach optimum performance both academically and athletically. The new athletics department strategic plan was launched in September '22 and is aimed at delivering a premier student-athlete experience in college athletics, while providing Rebels opportunities to excel at the highest levels. In this report, compliant with NSHE Handbook Title 4, Chapter 24, Section 1, Subsection 9, a. and b. (Policies Concerning NSHE Intercollegiate Athletics), you will find a summary of UNLV Athletics' 2022-23 academic, athletic, and administrative activities.

We are in economic uncertain times and must continue to remain steadfast and enhance our commitment to the student-athlete experience. Locally and globally, the supply chain and workforce remain challenging, which requires more emphasis on professional development for current staff. It is better to train, mentor, and encourage current staff than recruit new staff that may not be as committed to the Rebels. Our student-athletes have continued to excel academically and socially, as you will see later in this report.

The ever-changing landscape of intercollegiate athletics is most challenging at this time when it comes to student-athletes taking advantage of Name, Image and Likeness (NIL) as well as the Transfer Portal. From August 1, 2022, to May 1, 2023, 8,699 NCAA football players entered the transfer portal, which was a year-over-year increase of 5.5%. Only 57% of student-athletes who entered the portal found a home at the same level of competition they were seeking. The related graduation rates remain a mystery at this time as data has yet to become available.

As NIL opportunities increase it is more important than ever that our department continue to provide education and advise our student-athletes, coaches, and donors on the rules and regulations. Per state policy we can only educate and not advise our student-athletes and hope they do not enter into an unfavorable agreement.

The Athletics Department and Thomas & Mack Center's vision has helped develop an outstanding culture that student-athletes, coaches, staff, and community members want to be a part of on a long-term basis. The vision has featured a culture that is supporting the health and well-being of our student-athletes so that they reach their absolute maximum potential in all areas that positively impact and elevate the student-athlete experience. We continue to engage with the campus community, donors, corporate partners, and the greater Las Vegas community to have strong partnerships to meet our goals and accomplish UNLV Athletics' mission, while also aligning with the mission of UNLV.

We have student-athletes, coaches, and administrators rich in character, integrity, excellence, innovation, and empathy, displaying a drive to consistently collaborate to become academic and athletic champions while conducting our business the right way.

In brief, our top priorities this past year continued to be enhancing the experience of all student-athletes, further building to support our championship culture, and nurture our supportive Rebel "community" among our fans, students, campus, and UNLV partners.

Notable benchmarks and highlights from 2022-23 include:

HISTORIC RECRUITING: Our programs are attracting top-rated, nationally recognized student-athletes in the high-profile sports of football, men's basketball, women's basketball, and volleyball. All of our sports are recruiting not only good performers but also athletes who have a sincere interest to excel academically, which is evident in our graduation rate improving to a record 85% in '22 and 88% '23. The rates are for those students who fully enrolled in 2015 and 2016, respectively.

ACADEMIC RECORDS SET: The following academic records were set during the course of the 2022-23 academic year: 12 consecutive semesters with at least a 3.0 combined department grade point average and an overall Graduation Success Rate (GSR) of 88% (Fall 2016 Cohort).

Four Rebel sports programs had a 100% GSR for the most recent cohort: women's golf, softball, women's tennis and volleyball; while baseball, football, women's golf, softball, women's respective record.

Six Rebel sports programs earned a perfect single-year Academic Progress Rate (APR): men's golf, men's tennis, women's basketball, women's golf, women's soccer, and women's tennis.

IN COMPETITION: During the 2022-23 academic year, UNLV Athletics programs claimed a total of five conference titles – women's basketball (both regular season and tournament), men's swimming and diving, women's tennis (tournament) and volleyball (regular season).

Individually, UNLV Athletics was home to two All-Americans (Rosa Santana, track & field; Isabel Martin, volleyball), four All-Region/District honorees and six conference Players of the Year. The Rebels also saw three of their coaches recognized as conference Coaches of the Year (Lindy La Rocque, women's basketball; Ben Loorz, men's swimming & diving; Dawn Sullivan, volleyball).

INTRODUCTION

FACILITIES: In 2022-23, UNLV Athletics programs continued to update and maintain all of its facilities, including upgrades to the softball stadium, baseball stadium, new track & field equipment, new LED lighting in Cox Pavilion for volleyball and women's basketball to name a few.

FUNDRAISING: Raising funds continues to be a challenge as the Las Vegas market continues to be flooded with added entertainment opportunities. Fundraising remained steady while preparations to launch the new "Rebel Up" capital campaign were underway. Full implementation will occur in FY '24, which will substantially increase philanthropic support. The lack of success in football and men's basketball during FY '23 made generating revenue more challenging. A change was made in football leadership, which assisted in increasing philanthropic support as well.

The "Rebel Up" campaign is aimed at supporting the student-athlete experience and capital projects for sustained facility improvements to include developing a maintenance and operating endowment fund. A part of our mission is to have the best facilities in the Mountain West and compete with our peers in the Western region, where we recruit the most.

BALANCED BUDGET: Despite the challenges presented by the pandemic, the department's budget has been balanced four of the last five years.

PARTNERSHIPS/PROGRAMS: The department's partnership with Learfield was extended with an increase in revenue distribution for the first three years to 100% at a minimum of $2 million per year (FY '23 ended at $2.2 million).

Additionally, UNLV was selected to serve as the host institution for the 2023 NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Regional, which took place at T-Mobile Arena in March and was a resounding success. In addition to a variety of NCAA Division I, II and III Championship Events in the near future, UNLV has also been selected to serve as the host institution for the first NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Final Four to be held in Las Vegas, at Allegiant Stadium in March 2028.

UNLV also launched a new partnership with AMPLIFY, a division of Learfield developed to increase ticket sales and annual philanthropic donations.

CULTURE OF COMPLIANCE: The NCAA Compliance office at UNLV continued to strive to enhance control measures, while providing strong educational content and systematic processing procedures with 135 rules education presentations conducted and more than 45 new and updated system and control workflows created.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS: UNLV Athletics has continued to show its commitment to making a difference in Las Vegas through volunteer work, appearances and donations. During the 2022-23 academic year, student-athletes participated in more than 50 community service events, resulting in more than 2,000 community service hours. The department's teams service the community in a variety of different ways, but perhaps most notable is the time they spend to engage through free clinics, mentorship and meaningful donations. The department takes great pride in its strong partnerships with Sleep In Heavenly Peace, Team Impact, the UNLV Food Pantry, CCSD's Nevada Reading Week, Three Square Food Bank and Las Vegas Rotary.

The vision for the future is to expand upon this commitment to impacting and improving the lives of Las Vegas youth through the areas of literacy, bedlessness and promoting sport as a pathway to education.

DIVERSITY & INCLUSION: UNLV Athletics has one of the most diverse head coaching staffs in the Mountain West and is a leader in this area nationwide. The department's Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Belonging Committee, along with its student-athletes, continue to take on an active role in participating in and shaping initiatives and creating change and influencing a more inclusive environment at UNLV.

Some notable accomplishments from these groups in 2022-23 include formalizing a student-athlete mental health awareness committee, participating in the Hilinski's Hope project, creating a mentorship program to increase a sense of belonging and expanding the National Girls & Women In Sports Day clinic to include a station for mental health and wellness.

Moving forward as a collective unit and department, we will continue the momentum that we have created with an emphasis on getting better each and every day. On behalf of our more than 500 student-athletes, in addition to our coaches and staff, thank you for the opportunity to compete and proudly represent this vital institution every day of the year.

Go Rebels!

STRATEGIC PLAN

TO THE UNLV COMMUNITY,

At UNLV, we believe that developing a clear strategy is integral to success – both on the field and in the classroom.

The best plans are based on research, honest self-evaluation, and comparison to your competition. Successful plans – like any effort at UNLV – require teamwork, transparency, and trust in one another. Ultimately, Strategic Plans are pointless without faithful execution, candor, and flexibility.

In developing UNLV's Strategic Plan for Athletics, we've incorporated the skills our student-athletes learn throughout their studies: thorough research, careful planning, cooperation, and open communication. In developing this plan, we talked directly with our athletes, coaches, alumni, donors, students, faculty, industry experts, and media professionals. Through surveys, focus groups, direct communication, and a series of planning meetings, we have crafted a Strategic Plan that takes this valuable feedback into account while remaining centered on successfully driving us forward.

UNLV's Strategic Plan for Athletics is guided by our vision to deliver a premier student-athlete experience in college athletics — providing Rebels the opportunity to succeed not just as athletes but also as well-rounded people. We are committed to lead UNLV Athletics within this Strategic Plan, which breaks down into six core areas: Student-Athlete Development; Athletic Excellence; Model Enterprise; Fan Experience; Community Relationships; and Diversity, Equity, Inclusion & Belonging. These areas of focus directly align with the broader UNLV Top Tier 2.0 Strategic Plan because the Athletics Department working in tandem with the University only optimizes everyone's success.

As with any game plan, the real work starts when the competition begins. We are mindful that this thoughtful planning will prove ineffective if not applied to the real world, so our Strategic Plan must be adaptable to each unique situation. A successful Strategic Plan additionally requires cooperation and collaboration within the UNLV community. When we all know the game plan, we can play an important role in reaching our goals.

Just like its own constantly evolving city, UNLV is a unique and exciting place that looks to be proactive, innovative and a leader in the future of both education and athletics.

Guided by UNLV's Strategic Plan for Athletics, we are moving forward - together.

Go Rebels!

REBEL ATHLETICS BUDGET SUMMARY

FY 2023 - BUDGET SUMMARY

The UNLV Athletics' Business and Financial Services unit supports the mission of the Athletics Department by providing superior customer service to 17 teams, more than 500 student-athletes, and numerous support units in both the Athletics Department and Thomas & Mack Center with a top priority of balancing the budget. In FY 2023, the business office continually strived to maintain a sustainable overall budget process while battling continual exponential cost increases compared to steadier revenue growth. Time was spent throughout the budget process to continue greater financial communication, transparency, and accountability, while striving to maintain a zero-based budgeting model and clarifying institutional support.
