Fine Arts Complex and he gave a progress report on a private cam-vada provided $6 million for the project, which cost $8.2 million. Volunteers formed a committee, Chaired by newspaper columnist and philanthropist Rollan Melton, to raise the additional $2.2 million. President Crowley stated that the committee expected to reach its goal by February.

The meeting reconvened at 1:30 P.M. All Regents were present ex-
12. UNS Health Care Symposium

A Health Care Symposium was offered to brief Regents on the current and future programs and offerings within the UNS. Included were recommendations for consideration of future UNS involvement. Each Campus was represented during the discussion and gave presentations outlining existing and future plans. In addition, a report describing Nevada's health care education needs through the year 1993 was presented and is filed in the Regents Office.

The wide-ranging discussion focused on topics such as:

- future manpower needs,
- needs of an aging population,
- rural health care,
- accreditation of programs,
- articulation of nursing courses,
- capital construction plans and bills being drafted for the 1987 Nevada Legislature which involve UNS.

Citing the need to address the State's immediate and long-term health care needs, the Board requested another meeting on January 29, 1987 to discuss strategic planning.

13. Report and Recommendations of the Academic Affairs Committee
A report and recommendations of the Academic Affairs Committee meeting, held January 9, 1987, were made by Regent Jo Ann Sheerin, Chairman.

(1) Approved changes in the existing Hydrology/Hydrogeology program at UNR, as contained in Ref. AA-1, filed in the Regents Office.

Rather than one major, three separate majors will be offered: Hydrology, Hydrogeology and a combined Hydrology/Hydrogeology major. These are currently options within the program. This will provide for less confusion when explaining the programs to potential students, and in administration of the program. The proposed changes will not result in any new faculty, courses or facilities.

(2) Approved the Phase I Proposal for an AAS degree in Ophthalmic Technology at CCCC, as contained in Ref. AA-2, filed in the Regents Office.

Graduates of this program will be trained as assistants to Ophthalmologists. They will be qualified to take histories, perform vision testing, repair and maintain instruments, conduct contact lens procedures, as well as performing other duties.

This program could provide a cost-effective means of staffing and operating Ophthalmologists' offices. Trained individuals at the technical level are in short supply in the southern portion of the State, and recruitment can be costly. This program will be the only one of its kind in Nevada, and one of only a few in the western United States. Date of initiation is planned for September, 1987.

This program is consistent with the CCCC master plan, which emphasizes the increased need for vocational programs. It is anticipated that 15 students will be enrolled in the program by the 4th year. Health core, science and humanities courses are already in place, and students will be admitted every other year in order to avoid overload of clinical facilities.

Funding needs include a 1/2 time program coordinator, adjunct faculty, salaries for extra laboratory sections and travel, and is estimated at $12,200 in the 4th year. Indirect costs of $4,500 will be required for administration, overhead, limited-entry processing and laboratory support.

Mrs. Sheerin asked why training in this program was not the same as Dental Assisting and Dr. Alison Mc Pherson, Director of Science and Health at CCCC, responded that the programs were different, and Ophthalmic Technology requires different more complex training. Mrs. Sheerin asked if there would be adequate space for this program and Dr. Meacham responded that there is a need for this program and space will be made available. Mrs. Kenney queries if the job market had been surveyed and Dr. Mc Pherson stated that a person-to-person survey was taken.

(3) Approved the Phase II Proposal for a Ph. D. in Anthropology at UNR, as contained in Ref. AA-3, filed in the Regents Office.

This degree will be a cooperative program between the Department of Anthropology and the Desert Research Institute. The program will focus on the anthropology and archaeology of the Great Basin and Far West.
The curriculum will consist of 3 options, with a total of 72 credits required. 54 to 55 credits in Environmental Archaeology, Historical Archaeology or Ethnography and Ethnohistory will be required, plus 18 credits in field work and dissertation.

Funding for the program is projected at $20,500 by the 4th year, and will include a request for one teaching assistant and reimbursement for Desert Research Institute faculty who will be teaching in the program. Existing faculties and equipment are adequate at the present time. Consultants were brought in from the University of California at Davis and the University of Oregon to review the program proposal. Recommendations made by the consultants have been integrated into the proposal.

The Phase I Proposal was approved by the Board of Regents in June, 1986.

President Crowley answered Mrs. Sheerin's question regarding the funding for the one teaching assistant and DRI faculty by stating that the funds will be reallocated internally at this time, and UNR will seek funding from the Legislature in the future; it was too late to be included in this year's budget request.

Mrs. Sheerin queried if there would be adequate library resources for the 40 students and 7 faculty, and President Crowley responded in the affirmative.

(4) Approved the Phase II Proposal for an M. D., Ph. D. in the School of Medicine, as contained in Ref. AA-4, filed in the Regents Office.

This program will lead to a combined M. D., Ph. D. degree, awarded through the School of Medicine, with jurisdiction for the program to be shared by the UNR Graduate School. The dual program will consist of biomedical research and clinical medicine. Graduates will be able to participate in research, teaching and clinical care.

Completion of the program will require 6 to 7 years.
The curriculum will consist of 88 credits of basic med-cal sciences and 44 credits of graduate work and research, plus seminars, colloquia, and a qualifying examination. The Clinical Medicine portion will involve 56 credits of Clerkships.

The M. D. degree will be obtained through existing medical curriculum, while the Ph. D. course work can be completed through the Departments of Anatomy, Biochemistry, Pharmacology, Physiology and the interdisciplinary program in Cell and Molecular Biology.

Students in this program must meet the entrance requirements for admission to the Medical School as well as the Graduate School. Completion will require a 3.0 GPA in graduate courses, a 2.5 in the School of Medicine, as well as competency in a foreign language.

Enrollment in the program will be small, beginning with 2 students and increasing to 8 by the 4th year of the program. Funding is projected at $80,000 by the 4th year to support a secretary, operating funds and stipends for 8 students. The stipends will be provided from individual research grants to faculty, and eventually by training grant support. Existing facilities and equipment are adequate for the program.

The Phase I Proposal was approved by the Board of Re-
Dr. David Westfall, Chairman of the Pharmacology Department, responded to Mrs. Sheerin's question regarding the number of students within the program, by stating that those enrolled would come from existing students in the medical program; therefore, there would be no increase of enrollment.

(5) Approved the Phase II Proposal for an MS and Ph. D. in Pharmacology in the School of Medicine, as contained in Ref. AA-5, filed in the Regents Office.

This 4-year program will be centered in the Department of Pharmacology. The master's degree will be offered as an intermediate degree en route to the Ph. D.; students will not be accepted solely as masters' candidates. The curriculum for the program will consist of 97 credits which will include knowledge of the biological sciences, mathematics, chemistry and many aspects of medicine. Students must meet the entrance requirements set forth by the Graduate School and complete certain prerequisites in science courses.
A total of 8 students will be accepted in the program by the 4th year. 4th year funding requests will total $80,000 and will provide for a part-time secretary, operating funds and stipends for 8 graduate assistants.

Existing facilities and equipment are adequate for the two programs.

The Phase I Proposal was approved by the Board of Regents in October, 1986.

Dr. Westfall indicated that stipend funding for students will be sought at the Legislature, or funding will be absorbed through research grants.

Mrs. Sheerin asked what the prerequisites were to be accepted into the M. S., Ph. D. program since an M. D. is not required in the program. Dr. Westfall replied that students can be accepted by taking prerequisites such as chemistry, biology, biochemistry, psychology and other disciplines.

(6) New Business - The Committee requested Vice Chancellor Fox to report at the April meeting on the subject of articulation, especially articulation in nursing and other health related programs between Community Colleges and Universities. Equivalency between 2-year and 4-year scientific programs should also be included in this report.

Vice Chancellor Fox stated that at the December meeting the Board approved a new process for the review of programs, and informed the Committee that there are only a few Phase I and Phase II programs to come before the Committee under the previous process of reporting.

Mrs. Sheerin moved approval of the report and recommendations of the Academic Affairs Committee. Mrs. Gallagher seconded. Motion carried.

Mrs. Sheerin requested that two full day meetings per year be scheduled for the Academic Affairs Committee for Program Review.

Chairman Klaich acknowledged Mr. Rowland Oakes and Mr. Frank Byrne. Mr. Oakes is Executive Director of the Associated General Contractors and Chairman of Construction Opportunity Trust, representing management. Mr. Byrne is Secretary of the Northern Nevada Building Trades Council and Co-Chairman of Construction Opportunity Trust, representing labor.

These gentlemen are instrumental in the donation from Construction Opportunity Trust to provide for the construction of a metal building on the WNCC Campus. This donation will total approximately $150,000 in labor and materials needed to complete the building. The metal building donated by the American Buildings Company of Carson City, will house the machine shop laboratory at WNCC.

Mr. Karamanos entered the meeting.

Campus. President Crowley informed the Board that several alternatives have been addressed such as contracting with a private party to construct parking for a commercial enterprise. It has been determined, at this time, that it would not be feasible to construct and maintain parking structures on the Campus.

Mr. Karamanos moved approval of the Master Plan for North Campus at UNR. Mrs. Gallagher seconded. Motion carried.

18. Legislative Workshop

The University of Nevada System Planning Report, 1987-1992, which describes Campus goals and objectives, academic and budget priorities, economic development issues, student enrollment growth, as well as current and future efforts to strengthen higher education in Nevada, was presented by Vice Chancellor Fox. NRS 396.505 calls for the Board of Regents to prepare a comprehensive System Plan to be submitted to the Legislature. Such planning reports are published on a biennial basis as updates to Nevada 2000: Future Directions for Nevada's Colleges and Universities.

Key points of the report are:

A. Increased Enrollment - The population growth of the State, the increasing numbers of high school graduates, and the high ratio of high school graduates planning postsecondary education will increase UNS enrollment by 26% to nearly 63,000 by 1991.

B. Increased Demand for Existing and New Programs - Increased enrollment, an increasingly diverse student body (more part-time, older and minority students), and State demands for higher education to play an ever larger role in economic development and diversification, will increase the demand for new and improved programs on the UNS Campuses.

C. Continuing Emphasis on Provision of Quality Programs - The UNS remains committed to providing high quality programs to all students enrolled in the System.

D. Continuing Demand for Quality Faculty - In order to attract and retain high quality faculty, resources must be committed to attain nationally competitive salaries.

E. Increased Need for New Equipment and Facilities - Advances in educational technology, and in technology used in the workplace, will create a continued need to acquire new and upgraded computing, occupational and research equipment and facilities.

Regents budget priorities for the 1987-89 biennium, System goals, approved enrollment figures and academic degrees are also included, as are Campus priorities for the next two biennia.

Mrs. Sheerin moved approval of the planning report. Mrs.
Sparks seconded. Motion carried.

The meeting adjourned at 5:05 P.M.
