Acknowledgements

We would like to thank Dr. Elizabeth Gunn, Nevada State University, Dr. Tabor Griswold, University of Nevada, Reno, and the other members of the Power-Based Violence Task Force at Institutions of Higher Education (formerly known as the Sexual Misconduct Task Force) for their assistance and guidance with the development of the Power-Based Violence Survey (PBVS) used for this study. We would especially like to thank Dr. Jenny Lowman, Director, Student Persistence Research, University of Nevada, Reno, for the development of prior versions of the Campus Climate Sexual Misconduct Survey that was utilized at the University of Nevada, Reno (UNR), Great Basin College (GBC), and Western Nevada College (WNC). Many of the items used in these prior campus climate surveys at UNR, GBC, and WNC were utilized in the PBVS. In addition, we would like to thank graduate research assistants, Audrey Cerfoglio and Demi Hart, for assisting in analyzing the open-ended responses.

We would also like to thank Ben Roelofs, Director, User Services at UNR, Ryan Coulter-Haigh at UNR IT Department, the NSHE IT Department (James Unfried and a special thanks to Brian Anzalone who created the NSHE logo for the survey), and the IT Departments at the other six NSHE institutions (GBC, WNC, CSN, UNLV, TMCC, NSU) for their assistance in “allow listing” all email addresses for the study. We’d like to thank all institutional analysis personnel who assisted with the project and for their assistance in providing the contact lists for their institutions. We’d like to thank Lynda King in the NSHE Chancellor’s Office for their assistance in reviewing and editing the survey items, and their assistance in obtaining the student contact lists from all institutions.

Finally, we’d like to thank all of the student-respondents at each of the seven NSHE institutions for providing their feedback and responses to the survey. Without your assistance we would not be able to improve the PBV procedures for reporting a PBV incident, supporting the survivors of the incident, and providing fair reporting procedures for both the victim and the accused.

Executive Summary

The Center for Surveys, Evaluation, and Statistics (CSES) and the Grant Sawyer Center for Justice Studies (GSCJS) at the University of Nevada, Reno (UNR), conducted a Power-Based Violence Survey (PBVS) in collaboration with the Nevada System of Higher Education (NSHE), to assess NSHE students' attitudes, perspectives, and experiences about power-based violence (PBV) during their time as a student at their respective institutions. Per Nevada Revised Statute 396 (NRS 396) and Senate Bill 347 (SB 347), passed during the 81st (2021) Nevada Legislative Session, this survey was conducted at the request of the Task Force on Sexual Misconduct at Institutions of Higher Education (herein referred to as the Power-Based Violence Task Force or PBV Task Force)¹, Chaired by Dr. Elizabeth Gunn, Dean, School of Liberal Arts, Sciences, and Business and Professor of Humanities, Nevada State University. Per NRS 396.1415,

The Task Force on Sexual Misconduct at Institutions of Higher Education created by NRS 396.141 shall: (a) Review the results of any climate survey on sexual misconduct administered at an institution within the System; and (b) Each year, hold a meeting open to the public to provide recommendations to the Board of Regents on how to address sexual misconduct at institutions within the System.

The Task Force's charge, per NRS 396.142, was to "to develop a climate survey on sexual misconduct designed to be administered at institutions within the System." According to the NSHE website at <https://nshe.nevada.edu/system-administration/departments/public-affairs/committees/power-based-violence-task-force/> (last accessed 2/5/24):

The PBV Task Force is charged with reviewing the results of any power-based violence climate survey administered at any NSHE institution, examining current procedures and protocols for preventing, intervening in or responding to instances of power-based violence that are used at Institutions within the System, identifying possible gaps in the services that are available for victims of power-based violence at Institutions within the System, examining the correlation between social groups, campus life and the incidence of power-based violence on the campus of each Institution within the System, and providing recommendations to the

Board of Regents on how to address power-based violence at NSHE Institutions.

The Task Force is comprised of fourteen members, appointed by the Board of Regents, who represent NSHE Institutions including various institutional units, students, victim advocates, and researchers.

Power-based violence means any form of interpersonal violence intended to control, intimidate, or harm another person through the assertion of power over the person, including without limitation: dating violence, domestic violence, family violence, gender-based violence; violence based on sexual orientation or gender identity or expression, sexual assault, sexual harassment, sexual exploitation stalking, and/or voyeurism.

It is important to note that sexual assault and sexual misconduct are subsets of the power-based violence definition.

This report herein is only a tabulated summary of all the socio-demographics in the survey, by each survey question asked, using data from all NSHE colleges and universities that participated in the survey. The full, original report can be accessed under “Climate Surveys” at:

Overview

Power-based violence is defined as any form of interpersonal violence that is intended to pressure, control, intimidate, or harm another person through the assertion of power over the person. This term includes, but is not limited to, dating violence, domestic violence, gender-based violence, sexual misconduct, sexual assault, sexual harassment, and stalking. The University of Nevada, Reno (UNR), in collaboration with the NSHE Power-Based Violence Task Force, conducted a Power-Based Violence Survey (PBVS) to assess NSHE students' attitudes, perspectives, and experiences about power-based violence during their time as a student at their respective institution.

Methodology

The items in the power-based violence survey were mostly adapted from previous sexual assault surveys conducted at three other Nevada institutions (UNR, GBC, and WNC). All items were approved by NSHE prior to launching the survey. Each institution provided the research team with a contact list of both undergraduate and graduate students, including their first and last name, email address, and class ranking. No high school dual enrollment students were included, and only those students 18 years of age or older were permitted to participate in the survey. The institutions included were College of Southern Nevada (CSN), Great Basin College (GBC), Nevada State University (NSU), Truckee Meadows Community College (TMCC), University of Nevada, Las Vegas (UNLV), University of Nevada, Reno (UNR), and Western Nevada College (WNC).

All survey distributions were completed using the software, Qualtrics, via email. The survey was first launched on December 1, 2023 (see Appendices A and B), with subsequent reminders sent twice a week. The reminders were distributed to non-respondents on December 6, 2023, December 8, 2023, December 11, 2023, December 14, 2023, December 18, 2023, and December 21, 2023. The survey was closed on December 26, 2023, at 7am.

Participant Information

The final contact list, compiled from contacts provided from each NSHE institution, yielded 107,386 students. Of those students, 3,298 emails were duplicated, 1,160 emails bounced, and 4 emails failed to send. Therefore, a total of 102,924 students received the survey. Out of the students who received the survey, 5,644 students completed the survey. However, 147 students did not consent to completing the survey; therefore, their surveys were terminated immediately. Thus, only 5,497 surveys had viable data. The response rate of this survey is 5.48%.

Socio-Demographics

Students were asked various socio-demographic questions. The frequencies were presented in the original report. Please see the reported titled, “Nevada System of Higher Education 2023 Power-Based Violence Survey Report.” The full report can be accessed under “Climate Surveys” at:

<https://nshe.nevada.edu/system-administration/departments/public-affairs/committees/power-based-violence-task-force/>.

The report herein is only a tabulated summary of all the socio-demographics in the survey, by each survey question asked, using data from all NSHE colleges and universities that participated in the survey.

Measures

An online survey was utilized to collect data. Within the survey, the sections included: campus policies and procedures, bystander readiness, reporting observations, alcohol and sexual opportunities, power-based violence by perpetrator, relationships, interpersonal violence, abuse norms, perpetrator, unwanted sexual experiences, unwanted sexual contact victim, and socio-demographics.

The “Campus Policies and Procedures” section asked questions about students’ perceptions of their campus leaders, specific behaviors of leadership, and power-based violence reporting. Examples of questions include: 1) I think faculty are genuinely concerned about my welfare. 2) If a friend and I were sexually assaulted, I know where to go to get help. 3) [Institution] officials (administrators, public safety officers) should do more to protect students from harm.

The “Bystander Readiness” section addresses students’ perceptions of power-based violence at their institutions. Examples of questions in this section include: 1) If a student, staff member, or faculty member was formally accused of power-based violence, how likely is it that [Institution] would take corrective action against the accused? 2) Power-based violence is a problem at [Institution]. 3) I can affect change if I witness a power-based violence situation. For example, “If I see a friend involved in a power-based violence situation on campus, I would feel comfortable intervening in a safe way.”

The “Reporting Observations” section addresses students’ perceptions of reporting power-based violence but specifically sexual misconduct and/or sexual assault. If students responded “yes” to the question, “Since you have been a student at [Institution], have you had a friend or acquaintance tell you that they were a victim of an unwanted sexual experience?” they were asked subsequent questions about how they responded to the situation.

The next section, “Alcohol and Sexual Opportunities,” addresses students’ perceptions of sex, sexual misconduct, and sexual assault at their institutions. Students were asked whether they disagree or agree with the following statements: 1) makes other people sexier, 2) makes me sexier, and 3) facilitates sexual opportunities. In addition, students were asked if they have drunk alcohol, used marijuana, and/or used other recreational drugs during consensual sex.

The section titled “Power-Based Violence by a Perpetrator” addresses students’ experiences with power-based violence. Students were asked the question, “During your time as a student at [Institution], have you done the following to anyone in-person or by phone, text message, email, or social media and/or has anyone done the following to you. Students either responded “yes” or “no” per statement pertaining to whether the student did the act or someone did the act to them. Examples of statements include: 1) made sexual advances, gestures, comments, or jokes that were unwelcome, 2) showed or sent sexual pictures, photos, or videos that were welcome, and 3) stalked someone in person or virtually.

The next section, “Relationships,” addresses questions about students’ current relationship status. Students were asked if they currently have a romantic or intimate partner. If they answered “yes,” then they were asked if they have engaged in any of the following behaviors at least once with their partner within the past 12 months. Some of the behaviors they were asked about included showing care to my partner even though we disagreed, explaining my own side of a disagreement, and showing respect for my partner’s feelings about an issue. Like the previous section, students either responded with “yes” or “no” per statement pertaining to whether the student did the act or someone did the act to them.

For this subsequent section, “Interpersonal Violence,” only students who answered “yes” were directed to this section. The rest of the students who answered “no” skipped this section. In this section, students were asked, “Have you engaged in any of the following behaviors at least once with your partner within the past 12 months?” Some examples of specific behaviors include: 1) insulted or cursed at partner, 2) threw something at their partner that could hurt, 3) used verbal threats to make partner have vaginal, oral, or anal sex, and 4) went to a doctor because of a fight with a partner.

The following section titled “Abuse Norms” asks questions about the students’ friends. The students are asked, “How many of your friends have done the following?” Some examples of items include: 1) made forceful attempts at sexual activity with a person they were dating, 2) talked about giving a date alcohol to get sex, and 3) expected sex when they spent money on a date. The responses were none of my friends, one friend, two or more friends, and I don’t know.

The “Perpetrator” section addresses whether the student has perpetrated power-based violence. The question asks, “Have you done any of the following to another student at [Institution]?” Example items include: 1) I fondled, kissed, or rubbed up against another person’s body even though the person didn’t want that. 2) I removed a person’s clothes even though the person didn’t want that. 3) I tried to make someone give me oral sex even though the person didn’t want that.

The next two sections, “Unwanted Sexual Experiences” and “Unwanted Sexual Contact Victim,” are related. The first section asks questions about a students’ experiences with unwanted sexual contact during their time as a student at their institution. Students were asked “Has anyone had any of the following types of sexual contact with you that you did not want (without your consent)?” Some examples of items within this question are touching of a sexual nature, oral sex, anal sex, and vaginal sex. The latter section, “Unwanted Sexual Contact Victim,” addresses a student’s most recent incident of unwanted sexual contact during their time as a student at their institution. Students only answered questions in this section if they answered “yes” to any of the questions in the unwanted sexual experiences section. Examples of questions in this section include where the incident took place, when the incident took place, their relationship to the other person involved, whether they reported the incident, and if there was alcohol or drugs involved.

Lastly, the students were asked sociodemographic questions. These questions included race, sex, sexual orientation, language, current employment, and financial support.

Data Analysis

Descriptive descriptives were calculated for most survey items. Only survey items that were found to be significant in the main report and had a high enough sample size were included in this analysis.

Results

Below, the frequencies for each survey item will be presented in tables. It is important to note that CSN and GBC did not provide class ranking data, so students from those schools were included in the missing category for class ranking.

Email Letter

Email Subject Line: IMPORTANT: Your Feedback is Needed on Sexual Misconduct and Power-Based Violence.

Dear ${m://FirstName} ${m://LastName},

The Nevada System of Higher Education (NSHE) is conducting a student survey about your attitudes, perspectives, and experiences about sensitive topics and possible experiences during your time as a student at ${e://Field/University}. Your input will contribute to efforts to make your campus safer for you and your fellow students and will only take 15-20 minutes to complete.

More specifically, this survey deals with topics of power-based violence, sexual misconduct, and sexual assault.

- Power-based violence refers to any form of interpersonal violence intended to pressure, control, intimidate, or harm another person through the assertion of power over the person. This term includes, without limitation, dating violence, domestic violence, family violence, gender-based violence, violence based on sexual orientation or gender identity or expression, sexual assault, sexual harassment, sexual exploitation, stalking, and observing another person who is naked engaging in sexual activity without that person's consent.

This survey is not a reporting tool. If you believe you need the assistance of the team or need to report, you will be provided a list of resources for Title IX, student wellness, or other resources for your institution if applicable at the end of the survey.

All results will be kept confidential and go directly to the Nevada Center for Surveys, Evaluation, and Statistics. Do not forward your unique survey link to anyone, as your confidentiality could be compromised.

If you have any questions or concerns about the survey questions, please email:
PBVsurvey@nshe.nevada.edu

If you have technical issues with the survey, please feel free to contact the Nevada Center for Surveys, Evaluations, and Statistics at 1-800-929-9079, Monday-Friday, 9 am to 9 pm, Saturdays, Sundays, and Holidays, 9 am to 5 pm.

Appendix C Power-Based Violence Survey

Consent Page

Thank you for taking time to complete this survey. Your input will contribute to efforts to make a safer Nevada System of Higher Education (NSHE). We are interested in your attitudes, perspectives, and experiences about sensitive topics and possible experiences during your time as a student at $\{e://Field/University\}$.

More specifically, this survey deals with topics of power-based violence, sexual misconduct, and sexual assault.

- Power-based violence refers to any form of interpersonal violence intended to pressure, control, intimidate, or harm another person through the assertion of power over the person. This term includes, without limitation, dating violence, domestic violence, family violence, gender-based violence, violence based on sexual orientation or gender identity or expression, sexual misconduct, sexual assault, sexual harassment, sexual exploitation, stalking, and observing another person who is naked or engaging in sexual activity without that person's consent.
- Sexual misconduct is a subset of power-based violence and is broadly defined as the use of power or control to intimidate or harass another person through unwanted intimate violence. Examples of sexual misconduct include intimate partner violence and stalking. Sexual misconduct occurs in the absence of consent. There are questions in the survey that address sexual misconduct in greater detail.
- Sexual assault is a subset of power-based violence and is defined as any sexual activity that happens without consent. There are questions in the survey that address sexual assault in greater detail.

The $\{e://Field/University\}$ student wellness team aims to help students, faculty, and staff during difficult times. This survey is not a reporting tool. If you believe you need the assistance of the team or need to report, please contact your institution's Equal Opportunity & Title IX website or student wellness center at the following links:

Sexual Exploitation (spreading sexual pictures or videos without consent, sex trafficking)

Stalking

Voyeurism (observing another person who is naked engaging in sexual activity without that person's consent)

7. If a student, staff member, or faculty member was formally accused of power-based violence, how likely is it that... (not at all likely, a little likely, somewhat likely, most likely, extremely likely)
 - a. [University] would take steps to protect the safety/reputation of the person accused of power-based violence during the investigation.
 - b. [University] would take corrective action against the accused.
 - c. The educational achievement or career of the accused would suffer.
 - d. [University] would take steps to make sure the investigation was fair.
8. Please indicate the extent to which you agree or disagree with the following statements about power-based violence: (strongly disagree, disagree, neutral, agree, strongly agree)
 - a. Power-based violence is a problem at [University].
 - b. I think I can do something about power-based violence at [University].
 - c. There isn't much need for me to think about power-based violence at [University].
9. The following behaviors could be initiated by someone known or unknown to the recipient, including someone with whom they are in a relationship. Please indicate the extent to which you agree or disagree with the following statements: (strongly disagree, disagree, neutral, agree, strongly agree)

- a. I can affect change if I witness a power-based violence situation. For example, if I see a friend involved in a power-based violence situation on campus, I would feel comfortable intervening in a safe way.
- b. I can affect change if I witness a power-based violence situation. For example, if I see a fellow student involved in a power-based violence situation on campus, I would feel comfortable intervening in a safe way.
- c. Please respond to the following statements: (yes or no)
 - i. I would like to attend a program about preventing power-based violence.
 - ii. I have been or am currently involved in ongoing efforts to end power-based violence at [University].

These questions address your perceptions of reporting power-based violence, specifically sexual misconduct and/or sexual assault, at [University]. Again, here are the definitions of sexual misconduct and sexual assault, a subset of power-based violence:

Sexual misconduct refers to a wide range of behaviors that are unwanted:

Unwanted remarks about physical appearance related to a sexual nature (e.g., catcalling);

Unwanted conversation with sexual innuendoes;

Persistent sexual advances that are undesired;

Spreading sexual pictures/photos/videos of an individual without consent;

Unwanted touching, rubbing, or groping.

Sexual Assault refers to a range of sexual behaviors that are unwanted and nonconsensual:

Unwanted oral, anal, or vaginal penetration or attempted penetration through force, threat of force, or while unable to give consent due to being incapacitated, passed out, unconscious, blackout drunk, or asleep.
